1970-71 A Year . . .

At Union City Community High School
Filled with big things
And little things
Happening all the time.
A year ...
When 18 meant voting,
When enrollment topped the 550 mark,
When pants were for girls,
And hair was for boys,
A year ...
Filled with Studying,
Cheering at games,
A winning football team,
Traveling to Detroit and New York

And so ... we present to you ...
A record of that year 1970-71.

The noon hour is not only a time to eat lunch but also a time to talk to friends.

Holiday Season Builds Spirit

Christmas tree decoration competition contributed to the spirit of students during the last week before Christmas. Using a "Charlie Brown Christmas" as a theme the Seniors constructed Snoopy's doghouse and the Peanuts Gang. Juniors had the theme of "The True Meaning of Christmas," decorating the tree with paper money. Both tissue paper and cardboard made up the Sophomore's winning tree. The second prize was awarded to the Freshman class who decorated their area of the hall as well as their tree with old-fashioned trims. Eighth graders had the theme of "Christmas in Heaven."

Led by members of the music department students made their way to the gym singing Christmas carols. Christmas spirit was carried out with a reading by Jill Mendenhall with seasonal music from the chorus and pep band. The convocation was highlighted by a visit from Saint Nick.

December 14, the annual PTO Christmas Dance took place providing music for the students and their dates by December's Children.

The cheerleaders performed several skits and Dean Wasson led the crowd in a round of "Rock My Soul." Coaches Surface and Kelly brought the evening to a peak with pep talks and several words from boys on the team.

Senior Class Play Is A "Riot"

"If That's Where It's At Baby, I'm Not Going" was the title of this year's Senior Class Play about a contemporary problem, Student Rebellion.

Rehearsals began four weeks before the final production. Lines had to be learned and characters had to be portrayed accurately, but, despite the work, everyone cooperated and had fun. Mr. Ted Leahey, the director, put the whole thing together.

One student's desire to get ahead causes her to plan a rebellion. Enlisting the aid of other students a rebellion is staged at PRU. Complete pandemonium prevades the campus until faculty and students reach a solution.

Mr. Ted Leahey devoted much of his time to the production of the play.

Lineup of the cast depicts the many personalities that made up the play.

Backstage, characters return to their own identities.

Senior Mike Stewart is employed as a sales clerk by the King's Home and Auto in Union City.

Rosemary Crawford, a senior member of DECA, works as a nurses aid at the Union City Memorial Hospital. She plans to pursue nursing as a career.

On The Job With DECA

DECA, in its second year at UCCHS, is a training program designed for juniors and seniors desiring on the job training in Marketing, Merchandising, and Distribution of Goods and Services. Operating under the supervision of the school, seniors are employed by many local businessmen.

DECA members, chosen by Mr. Clark, attended a district public speaking contest. All Union City members attended a meeting for election of State officers of DECA.

Peggy Harris works at the Sweet Shoppe when not in school. Peggy, a senior member of DECA, is very pleased with the school and work arrangement.

Students Enjoy A Wide Variety Of Convos

Don Lonie demonstrates his views on skirt lengths of today.

Originality and great amounts of spirit made pep sessions interesting and lively. More skits and greater student participation were stressed. Many ideas that were taken from comic strips and TV shows came to life through the efforts of the cheerleaders and student supporters. Emotions rose to their highest in preparation for the Sectional and the cheerleaders went to great lengths to insure a good pep session. Coach Steele gave a pep talk in front of an Indian Tepee, and Mr. Kelly, in full Indian dress, gave his own version of an Indian war dance and "Pre Battle Speech."

Convocations this year covered a wide variety of subjects and interests. Don Lonie spoke on youth morality in the world today, and Mike Crane, a karate expert, punctuated his demonstration with comments along the same line. Prefacing their evening performance with a demonstration of unusual ball handling skills were the Redheads. The Teen Ambassadors were also guest performers. Highlighting the autumn schedule was the Free Fare, a rock group who performed for the student body. All groups were well received and added greatly to the school year.

Varsity cheerleaders, Deb Howe, Deb Threewits, and Becky Bennett, portray characters from "Peanuts" at a pep session before a football game.

Big Chief Kelly summons victory for the Indians at the last pep session before the Sectional.

One of the favorite convocations of the student body this year was the performance of the Young American Free Fare.

Ellen Fitzmaurice gets a reaction from the students as she shows her appreciation to the basketball coach, Mr. Steele.

Red Fox Raided At Midnight

Members of the Red Fox Social Club and their guests enjoyed a formal dance party on May 14 at Red's Speakeasy. Jim Wolfe's trio and three flappers entertained the guests. The decorations were given a unique quality by the special lighting effects of a rotating crystal ball. The evening came to an abrupt halt, however, when the speakeasy was raided by neighborhood police departments.

While the band takes a break, students attending the prom enjoyed socializing.

Butch Welbourn and Lisa Rice take a break to enjoy the decorations.

Kent Mills takes part in a vicious sword fight only to be defeated.

Deb Kaufman, Ellen Fitzmaurice, Alice Strock, Deb Howe, and Becky Bennett, dressed as fashionable ladies, meet at a formal gathering where they are waited on by maid, Deb Brown.

Costumes of Classical Era Add To Junior Class Play

Tony Brophy and Mark Abel are reprimanded by Ellen Fitzmaurice while Sarah Hatton tries to console Deb Howe.

The Junior Class, directed by Ted Leahey, presented the classical play, "Tom Jones." Costumes and hairdo's were made to fit the time period of the 19th century and the scenery was also constructed by the students. The change of sets while the play was in progress was a new technique used and created a casual atmosphere.

Members of the cast attended practices for four weeks prior to the presentation as Mr. Leahey instructed them on how to portray each character.

The wrestling team, coached by Mark Surface, finished the season with a respectable 6 and 6 record. Led throughout the season by an outstanding group of young lightweights, the Indians placed second as a team in the Hagerstown Invitational and placed several men high in the Sectional competition. Outstanding individual records were: Keith Price (13-4); Scott Garrett (13-4-1), Dean Stover (8-5), Gerald Newman (11-7), and John Carr (10-6). Scott Garrett was our leading man in the Sectional, placing 3rd in the 98 pound class. Keith Price was our only All-Conference wrestler, working in 105 pound class.

Although placing a disappointing fifth in the Conference, our team should be congratulated for their fine season.

New Class Formed In Order To Aid Publications

The newly formed Journalism class is composed of students from the Junior and Senior classes who are interested in working on the newspaper and yearbook publications. The first semester class time was spent studying Journalism, and the second semester was devoted to working on publications.

The second semester the newspaper started a second paper, the Walnut Street Journal. Both printing and distribution of the paper were done by the staff members who devoted class periods and hours after school.

Work on the yearbook began in the summer when three staff members attended a two-week workshop at B.S.U. Many techniques to improve the yearbook were learned, and it has been the goal of the staff to incorporate these techniques in the 1971 Successus.

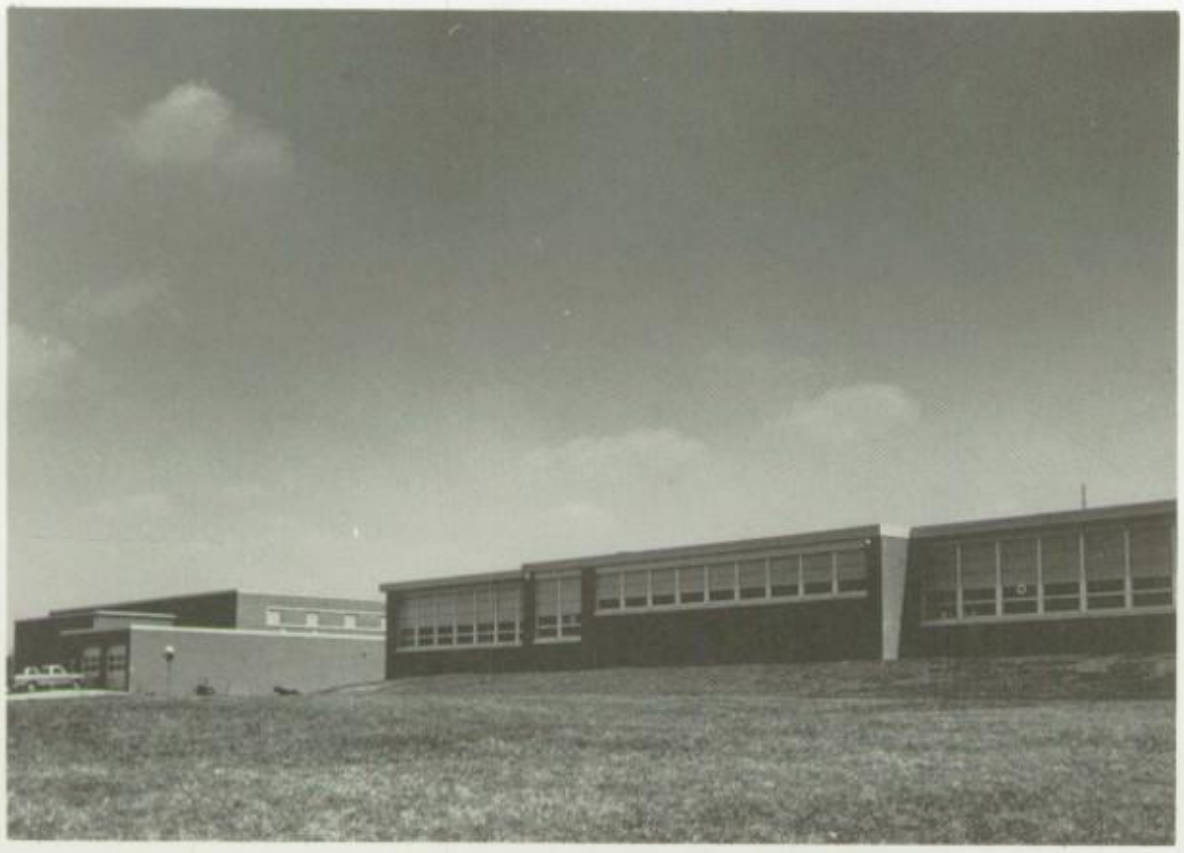
IF A MAN DOES NOT KEEP PACE WITH HIS COMPANIONS, PERHAPS IT IS BECAUSE HE HEARS A DIFFERENT DRUMMER. LET HIM STEP TO THE MUSIC WHICH HE HEARS, HOWEVER MEASURED OR FAR AWAY.

- HENRY DAVID THOREAU



The 1971 Successus Staff has attempted to present the student body and community with an accurate account of the school year while at the same time improving the design and techniques used in the yearbook. This meant changing many aspects of the yearbook. For some the changes will go unnoticed, for some they will be improvements, and for others they will decrease the value of our book. But the true value of our book can only be judged years from now when it does or does not serve as a vivid, actual recount of the 1970-71 school year.
